

ARE UNIVERSITY GRADUATES SATISFIED WITH THEIR EDUCATION?

Maritime university graduates answered questions about satisfaction with their program and the value they attached to their investment of time and money. Here's what they told us:

Class of 2012, two years after completing their first bachelor's degree

Graduate satisfaction with first degree

The vast majority of graduates were satisfied with aspects of teaching and overall educational quality in their first degree program

Their level of satisfaction is consistent with Class of 2007 opinion

Graduates of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences programs most satisfied

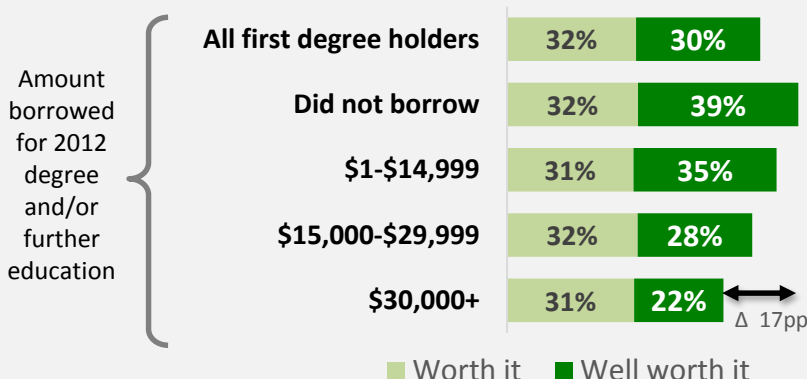

Percent reporting "Very Satisfied" with...

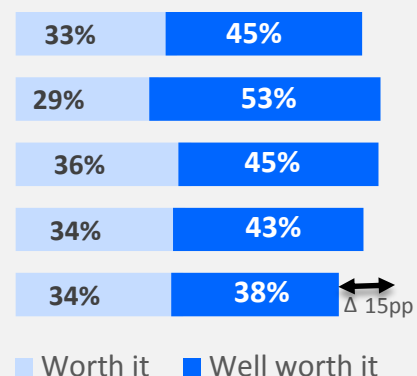

Graduates asked to think back on their university experience were more likely to say that their investment of time was well worth it compared to their financial investment:

Financial investment

Time investment

The more graduates borrowed to finance their education, the less likely they were to report that the time and money they invested for their first degree was well worth it

Refer to Statistical Tables and Methodology for more information

